an important witness in the Cronin cas turned up last night. He is George E. B a news agent running on one of the railroad sasmall man about 23 years old, is intelli gent looking and a good talker. His story is to the effect that on the night of May 4 he was riving in Lakeview with his sweetheart, and that happening along Ashland avenue he saw three men loading the trunk in the wagon at the Carlson cottage, and that about half an hour later he saw the same men dumping the contents of the trunk into the catch basin in which the body of Dr. the men distinctly and that he will be able to identify them, and that his female companion also saw them and that she too will be able to identify them. He is ready to produce the young woman as soon as the authorities want her. Brooks' explanation of his failure to tell his story before is that he was afraid of losing his life, as he believed the men concerned in the murder were so desperate they would kill any one who they thought might turn up as a witness against them. He said the knowledge he possessed had so weighed on his mind that he could not keep it to himself any longer and, believing it was a duty be last decided to tell all he had seen. He first stipulated that he be given protection. This was promised him. Brooks told his story to Chief Hubbard, with whom he was closeted for over two hours late last night. He described the three men whom he saw, and his description of one of them is said to fit Burks,

Martinsen Identifies Burke.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 22.-Martin Burke, the innipeg suspect, has been positively identifled as one of the Williams brothers, who are redited with being Dr. Cronin's slayers. The credited with being Dr. Cronin stayers. The person who thus identifies Burke is the expressman who was employed by one of the Williams to convey the furniture to the cottage. News of the indentification of Burke, and the circumstances under which Burke was seen by the expressman at Winnipeg was received last night in a message to Chief of Police Habbard from a Chicago officer at Winnipeg, as follows:

rolles Hubbard from a Chicago officer at winnipeg, as follows:

"WINNIPEG, June 21.—Martinsen, the expressman, instantly and fully identified Burke, picking him out of fifty-two men drawn up in a line in the jail yard in the presence of Burke's lawyer. Wire instructions."

Chief Hubbard replied that the extradition papers for Burke were now en route and would be pushed forward with all speed possible.

Hallagh, the Suicide.

New York, June 22 .- It was reported to-day that communication had passed between the police of Chicago and this city with a view of police of Chicago and this city with a view of connecting the man Richard Hallagh, who shot and killed himself yesterday, with the murder of Dr. Cronin. Inspector Byrnes said to-day that no communications had been received here from Chicago on that subject and he scouted the idea that the dead man had anything to do with the Cronin case. On one of the cards found on the dead man was written "A. Jurgens, 88 La Salle street, Chicago, Ill." The Chicago Directory gives the name of Axel Jurgens, a passenger agent, at that address.

PANIC ON A STEAMER.

An Excursion Boat Crowded With Passen gers Collides With a Bridge.

Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 22.-The excursion steamer Oneida met with an accident at Brew erton last night. On board were 300 people returning from a picnic. The pilot of the steamer claims that the current drew the vessel up against the Ogdensburg Railroad bridge and that one-third of her length was forced and that one-third of her length was forced under the 'iron structure and the upper deck torn off. The wildest confusion followed and the people either jumped or were thrown into the river. Others were pinned in between the boat and the bridge. Six members of the Central City Band were thrown into the water and floated down stream. Men who saw the accident put out in skiffs and rescued many of those struggling in the current. The list of those drowned or injured is as follows:

Drowned—Peter Yackel.
Injured—James Agan, Mrs. John Agan, A.
Gaylor, Michael Hogan, Mrs. Michael

May die—John Maas.
Many others were injured slightly. The steamer Babcock was following the Oneida closely with 300 persons on board and barely escaped the fate of her companion boat.

this morning:

DEAR SIR—Yours of the 17th is at hand, inquiring how our committee is to dispose of the funds in our hands, which I take pleasure in answering as fully as I can. The State having taken the work of clearing up debris, etc., leave to the new commission, which the Governor has appointed, the work of arranging all details for the systematic and intelligent distribution of relief as needed. This new commission, I am happy to say, is composed of excellent men, free from political bias, and at their conference yesterday at Johnstown outlined a pian which is in brief, to put plain houses up, furnish them plainly and encourage as far as possible the return of the homeless to their former manners and customs. Of course this implies a complete census of those entitled to help, and the nature of the help, whether household goods or otherwise; for which we must all depend upon the local committee at Johnstown, who are men of excellent standing and approved judgment.

Our committee has been constantly sending rations and clothing into the valley, caring for those who came here to be fed, clothed and sheltered. Our work is not restricted to Johnstown alone, but comprises all the Conemaugh Valley sufferers. You will see at once that a work so infinite in detail as the apportioning to each sufferer a just ratio of assistance is a task which in the nature of things cannot be accurately outlined, but the commission will spare neither time aor energy to make it as complete as human foresight can devise. TEN THOUSAND LOST. Estimate of the fatality of the Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 22,-All the loca hysicians met accidentally at the Bedford all parts of the stricken city, and, after dis-cussing the calamity, all joined in the conclu-sion that not a soul less than 20,000 people were lost in the floods. On account of the general knowledge of the people possessed by the physicians, the estimate is looked upon as reliable.

August Bumgardner, a resident here, and a foreign laborer, both employed in clearing up the wreekage near the Fennsylvania railroad bridge, were reported dangerously sick with blood poisoning in their arms. The sun blistered their bared arms and the fetid water poisoned them. The arms of both men were swollen out of all proportion, and the physicians express little hope of the recovery of either. The foreign laborer was sent to a Pittsburg hospital and Bumgardner is at his home in Kernville.

Two new cases of typhoid fewer were reported among the workmen this morning and were taken to the Red Cross Hospital. The Red Cross people have opened additional headquarters near Gen. Hastings' headquarters. This organization is still doing much good.

The Postmaster-General is not considering at present the question of making a change at this office. Nor is it likely that, a change will even be considered until after Congress meets. The Post-office Department is aware, however, of the difficulties which beset the present post-master in the way of inadequate office accommodations and insufficient cierk hire and these two questions are to receive attention at hesedquarters.

In making these retirements the Secretary had fitty disabled officers to solect from There was considerable pressure from officers eager for promotion to have others selected, but the Secretary refused to deviate from the rule recently adopted of retiring those who would give promotion to the senior by length of service. There was an additional reason, too, for the retirance of Capt. Norwood of the Second Cavairy. This regiment has three disabled Captains, thereby leaving three companies with Lieutenants in charge. The fact that Gen. Schödled's brother stands No. 3 on the list of First Lieutenants in this regiment for promotion has caused certain officers to think that the retirement was made Secretary Proctor and the Commanding General are now wrestling with the assign-ment of the West Point cadets. The task would not be a very difficult one if it were possible to carry out the wishes of all the cadets concerned but as there are numerous requests for the same places and a powerful requests for the same places and a powerful amount of influence behind each man who wants the choice places the work is neither desirable nor pleasant. One of the hardest questions to dear with is that in regard to assignments to colored regiments. There are two vacancles in these regiments, one each in the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fith Infantry, and to be impartial a cadet should be assigned to each of the two colored cavairy regiments. Yet the cadets are fighting bitterly against such details, and many of them would prefer to remain cadets for years rather than accept appointments in these regiments. The Secretary expects to reach a decision before the end of the week, but, with the many difficulties in the way, some days may elapse before the assignments are all settled upon.

No regular board was present to winness the test. The invention is in the shape of an ordinary rocket, only that instead of the stock its place is supplied with a very light metal tube, wherein the line is colled. About seven or eight pounds of powder are used in the rocket. There wore three trials to-day and in each case a line was carried between 900 and 1,000 yards and in the exact direction desired. While the proceedings were entirely of an informal nature the success of the invention was so pronounced that the Navy Department will early next week order a board of officers to give the invention a thorough practical test with a view of introducing it in the navy. Commodore Schley, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, whose views on the needs of better life-saving appliances on naval vessels were recently printed, said the success of the plan of sending a line was perfect, and if further official tests should sustain the impression made to-day the public would ere long be able to say that all human ingenuity could devise to say that all human ingenuity could devise to save life and property on naval ships had been supplied to our vessels. ### THE CITY'S GROWTH

As Outlined in the Message of Mayor Noonan to the Municipal Assembly.

A Document Full of Interest to Every Taxpayer and Citizen.

The Problem of Gas and Electric Lighting Fully Discussed-The Mayor Puts Himself on the Side of Cheap Gas and Tells crowded Hospitals and Public Institutions-Reports of the Various Heads of Departments Submitted-The Police-Improving Union Market-A Budget of Interesting Facts and Figures.

The following is the first message of Mayor Edward A. Noonan, submitted last night to both branches of the Municipal Assembly. The document is not given entire, but is only tance. It will be found to contain some very

THE MESSAGE.

To the Municipal Assembly of the City of St. Louis:

GENTLEMEN—In submitting this message to your honorable body, I am but following a custom long since established, and in touching a few points that may be of interest and tending to the general welfare, you will pardon the individuality with which I clothe them. * * Legislation to meet the requirements of modern times should be on the ilberal, broad-gauge, rapid-transit order.

St. Louis has fully awakened to this fact, and I teel that your honorable body will be in accord with me when I urge that the city never "llowed to go to sleep again on the vital

and after January 1, 1890, the streets and after January 1, 1890, the streets and inceplaces of the city will be lighted by setricity, contracts for which purpose have ready been entered into. As early as 1870 the Legislature conferred on the city government the power to regulate the price and quality of gas, and this power has always existed since said time and is now possessed and held by the city. It belongs to that class of powers known as the police power and the corporations enwared in, manufacturing and sell-as the police power and the corporations engaged in, manufacturing and selling gas at this point will have to bend to its exercise. An ordinance should be adopted establishing the price of gas to consumers on and after January 1, 1890, at $1.18% per 1,000 cubic feet on bills paid within five days after presentation, and $1.25 per 1,000 cubic feet on bills paid subsequent to the expiration of five days after presentation.

Under the recent admirable decision of Judge Klein of the St. Louis Circuit Court, the St. Louis Gas, Fuel & Power Co. is practically put out of existence and the St. Louis Gas Trust will practically cease to exist. Some delay may be created by the company appealing to the Supreme Court, but the end is in view.

In this connection I may remark that the city of St. Louis is the owner of 200 shares of the stock of the St. Louis Gaslight Co. * * I think an ordinance should be passed authorizing the Mayor and Comptroller to sell this stock * * * at a price not less than $375 per share.

I shall keep carefully in view the future of Ishall keep carefully in view the future of the gas situation in St. Louis. I recognize the fact that an abundant supply of cheep gas for illuminating, manufacturing and domestic purposes is one of the needs of a modern city, and if it can be accomplished here it will cheapen the cost of living and contribute greatly to the prosperity of the city. It has been brought to my knowledge that an aggregate of capital is to be employed under the name of the Laclede Gaslight Co. to absorb the shares of the St. Louis Gaslight Co. and the Carondelet Gaslight Co. skement. If the result of this management is cheaper and better gas to the consumer, I see no reason why it should be challenged; but it it is intended to make consumers of gas in St. Louis pay interest and dividends on bonds and stocks representing fictitious values, then I propose to interfere, and I have accordingly instructed the City Counselor to be prepared to act in the matter promptly, as occasion may arise, in vindication of the legal rights of the city.

Intuiting in purposes as expected in example to annot be charged that the dependent are neglected here.

SIDE TRACKS AND SWITCHES.

All possible facilities should be provided for merchants and manufacturers in the way of side tracks and switches; and new roads desiring to enter the city should be met with liberal treatment. So far as property owned by the city is concerned, I believe in granting to such roads a free right of way. At the same time I deprecate the practice that has aprung up of applying to the Mayor for permission to lay railway tracks on the streets. The Assembly is in session during nine months of the year, and it is the province of that body by ofdinance to grant such privileges and to prescribe the terms and conditions attending the same, subject to the approval of the Mayor.

CROWDED HOSPITALS.

Thave been urged to call your attention to the over-crowded condition of our asylums and hospitals. It is also a subject of frequent unimadversion by grand-juries. In reference to one of these institutions I would say that I am informed that poor, decent women and annot gives are not and cannot be entirely to one of these institutions I would say that I am informed that poor, decent women and young girls are not and cannot be entirely separated from females of another class in the Female Hospital. The head of the institution endeavors to do this, but it is almost impossible by reason of the condisions existing.

* * Provision should be made for a Female Hospital in a locality convenient and accessible to the city, and the present City Hospital might be used for the idiotic and harmless insane.

while I am in hearty saccord with the Board of Public Improvements in their sime and ambitions to extend the granite paving and thus secure permanent and perfect streets, I believe that the policy of carrying it far into the residence portion of the city is not the best course to pursue. Not only is the expense over-burdensome to property-owners remote from traffic, but the constant rumbling of vehicles over the solid blocks harshly in-the beauties of the forest and field, deserves special attention.

FINANCES.

The financial condition of the city is in the highest degree satisfactory, as is more fully set forth in the detailed report of the Combitolier transmitted herewish, etc. * * The aggregate receipts of the treasury during the fiscal year including balance April 10, 1888, were $11,233,462.12 and the total disbursements $8,683,682.25.

The condition of the city treasury is thus summarized: The balance at the close of the fiscal year was $2,565,379.86. Adding the augregate of uncollected special tax bills for street openings, street sprinkling and changing the grade of Laclede avenue ($246,523.72) shows the total resources of the treasury at the close of the fiscal year $2,841,903.58. After deducting the lightities (except the bonded debt), consisting of unexpended balances of special funds ($44,023.45), the unexpended balances of appropriations for public work and other special objects ($1,817,048.90), and unpaid Auditor's warrants ($190,008.78), there remains an unappropriated surplus of $790,822.47, belonging to the several revenue funds as follows:

Interest and Public Debt Revenue......$192,672.62

duced to $1,131,09.65, an annual saving or $237,480.22. Continuing the comparison in respect to taxation, as levied in 1885 and for the last and present fiscal year, a considerable decrease is shown in the old limits and increase in the new limits. Thus, the reduction and increases of taxes levied on the basis of the assessment for the year 1888 were as follows: On $135,615,530, assessed valuation of property in the old limits, the reduction and taxes amounted to $489,035.52; on $15,618,400 assessed valuations of property in that district of the new limits, which is subject to increase frate, the increase of taxes levied is $137,856.60, and on $13,036,270, assessed valuation of property, the increase of taxes levied is $52,345.08, the net reduction on the basis of the 1888 assessment being $299,828.14. The rates for 1889 will be the same as last vear. A tabular statement is given in the appendix of the Comptroller's report, which further illustrates the comparison of the present with the former years. The rates for 1886 and 1887 were as follows:

The rates for all other years were as follows:

insufficient to meet the annual charges against this fund, this surplus will gradually diminish.

The amount available for general municipal purposes is estimated by the Comptroller at $3,845,601.62, and the requirements for general expenses, chargeable to "Municipal Revenue," at $3,391,029.53. The amounts recommended for new public work aggregate $277,582; for additions, alterations and betterments at the eleemosynary institutions the Comptroller recommends appropriations aggregating $145,950, to meet only the most imperative necessities in the direction of relieving the over-crowded condition of the institutions provided for. He also recommends an appropriation of $33,334 for additions, alterations provided for. He also recommends an appropriation of $33,334 for additions, alterations and repairs at the Work-house, House of Refuge, Jail and Morgue.

The Comptroller estimates the resources of "Water-works Revenue" available for appropriation at $1,348,707.59. There will be required for operating expenses and cost of collecting the revenue the sum of $30,000 is provided, and the remainder of the resources of this fund is available for extension purposes. It is believed that the increase in water-rate collections will assure the necessary funds for extension as rapidly as the work progresses.

The resources of the harbor fund are estimated at $79,825.36. The estimated requirements for expenses and maintenance are $55,146. No new work on the wharf is contemplated to be done this fiscal year. The bonds maturing during the fiscal year. The bonds maturing during the fiscal year aggregate $328,000, of which sum the sinking fund will take about $35,000.

an increase of $1,341,240 over the assessment of the preceding year.

BOARD OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

The report of this department of the city government includes a fiscal exhibit of expenditures aggregating $39,164 96. Considerable extra expense is chargeable to cierical service temporarily employed in making out special tax bills for street sprinkling. These numbered 46,941 and represented, in the aggregate, the sum of $185,376.08. The total number of other special tax bills issued was 10,000, covering work the cost of which was $1,287,782.17. The contracts awarded for public work number 290, involving an estimated expenditure of $4,641,412.96.

WATER COMMISSIONER.

si, 287, 42.17. The contracts awarded to public work number 290, involving an estimated expenditure of $4.641,412.96.

The expenses of operating and maintaining the Waterworks were 2867,955.89; of water pipe extension and distribution, $209,246.22; and of extension of the works, $176,457.25; making an aggregate net expenditure of $63.629,36. The low-service engines were in operation 21,613% hours during the year and raised 11,644,333,000 gallons of water, while the high service engines pumped, from the settling basins to the city, 11,481,771,000 gallons, being in operation 18,290% hours. The cost of pumping per million gallons, was, for the low service, $5,182, being an increase of 72 cents per million gallons; and this increase is attributed to extensive repairs of the old engines and to the cost of fuel for operating the temporary low serfice works. The average daily consumption of water for the calendar year of 1,507,000 gallons as compared with 1887.

The Commissioner animadverts upon the use of fire plugs for filling street sprinkling carts, and contends that upon the assurance of the success of general street sprinkling a set of special sprinkling plugs should, be devised and put in.

During the year twenty-two miles of pipe have been added to the distribution system of the Water-works, making the total amount of pipe in service 256.09 miles.

WATER RATES.

During the year twenty-two miles of pipe have been added to the distribution system of the Water-works, making the total amount of pipe in service 236,09 miles.

The report of the Assessor and Collector of Water Rates exhibits an increase in collections of $32,714.07 as compared with the previous year. There was a loss of nearly $13,000 in receipts from sprinkling, this being due to the fact that the past year was the first in which water was furnished gratuitously for public sprinkling during the entire season. The expenditures of the department were $51,024.06, the total collections $322,689.25.

The disbursement of the department aggregated $1,441,633.89, an excess of $445,000 as compared with the expenditures of the previous year. The excess is chiefly due to the increased amount of labor performed in constructing and reconstructing streets and to the construction and reconstructing streets and to the construction and expense incurred in street sprinkling and cleaning also contribute to the comparative excess. The total mileage of reconstructed streets has been increased to 48.57 miles, viz.: granite pavement, $9.36 miles; asphaltum, $3.96, and wooden block pavements, 5.26 miles. The aggregate cost of reconstructed streets with granite since 1869 and with asphaltum and wooden blocks since 1883 has been $4,239,.799.15, of which sum the city has contributed $308,398.27 and the remainder paid by the abutting property. The net cost of repairing and maintaining over thirty-nine miles of granite pavement during the year has been $11,558.68, equal to about 17 cents a square. The maintenance of the asphaltum and wooden block pavements is effected by contract and $7,788.11 was expended in that behalf during the year. The department expended $93,423.01 for manual labor in street cleaning, and to this sum must be added $41,482.35 as the cost of cleaning, by machine, the streets prinkling was $155,934.66. The number of gas and gasoline street lamps at the close of the last fiscal year was $9.93, and there were added du

During the fiscal year the Inspector turned into the treasury fees aggregating $8,615.95 his expenses for the same period being $6,600 to $600.

FIRE AND POLICE TELEGRAPH.

FIRE AND POLICE TELEGRAPH.

The expenses of maintenance of this department during the year was $25,217.23 and to this sum was added $4,549.50 for extension and improvements of the system. The fire and police wires have been extended, making a total mileage in operation of 889 miles with 483 fire alarm boxes, 166 patrol boxes and 299 telephones. The total number of alarms given was 924.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The expenditures of this institution during the year were $39,858.77 and the earnings of the shops, $4,462.90, On April 9, 1888, there were 250 inmates, of whom 196 are boys.

CORONER'S OFFICE AND MORGUE.

Inquests to the number of 720 were held during the year, a decrease of 162 as compared with last year. The disbursements of the office aggregated $11,000 and the collections $107.50.

POLICE COURTS.

In the First District Police Court there, 301 cases disposed of and 2 7,851 cases disposed of and fines imposed tregating $92,011.
The Second Disposed

cases and imposed fines to the amount of $41,189.

In the South St. Louis Police Court 360 cases were disposed of and fines imposed to the amount of $4,086.

The aggregate amount of purchases made by this department during the year was $459, 235.18, and this sum covered the filing of 6,319 requisitions. The sales of condemned property realized to the city $4,140,93.

WORK-ROUSE.

rety realized to the city $4,140.93.

WORK-HOUSE.

The aggregate expenditures of the institution were $51,109.45 out of an appropriation of $52,700. The total receipts and earnings were $58,617.54. The largest number of prisoners confined at one time during the year was 489, the least number 588, and the daily average 424. The cost of boarding inmates, per capita, is 33 and 24-100 cents a day.

THE JAIL.

The gross expenditures chargeable to the city during the fiscal year were $24,670.55 out of an appropriation of $89,000, and the receipts being $12,792.27, the net cost to the city of maintenance and repairs was $11,548.28. The per capita cost of boarding prisoners was 20 1-7 cents per day.

MARSHAL.

The City Marshal's report shows the receipt of his office from collection, to have been $18,385.50, a slight increase over last year. The number of dogs killed is given at 7,997.

The number of dogs killed is given at 7,997.

POLICE.

The recent increase of the force has placed the department upon a better footing in respect to numerical comparison with the police departments of other large cities of the country, but St. Louis is still provided with a less number of patrolmen, in proportion to population and territorial area, than any other metropolis. The executive officers are convinced that an additional increase, equal to the last, which was barely adequate to properly cover that portion of the city lying east of Grand avenue, now solidly built up, is a necessity; and they maintain that the beats are out of all

Injured in an Elevator Accident. CHICAGO, June 22 .- An elevator in the Chi ago Sugar Refining Co.'s building fell sixty feet yesterday afternoon and seriously injured three men. The three men, William Larsen, the elevator conductor, Henry Netz and Randolph Wendt, coopers, started from the second floor to the sixth with a small load of sugar. When they reached the fourth floor the shaft which runs the holsting machinery broke and the elevator felt to the basement, sixty feet below. The cap of Larsen's kneewas broken and he was badly bruised about the body. Netz was seriously bruised about the face and body and the bone of his right leg was broken above the ankle and split toward the knee. Wendt had no broken bones, but it is feared that he is injured internally. He complains of pains in his chest. The injured man were remoyed to their homes. MR. H. C. TOWNSEND ENTERTAINS THE CHILDREN AT HIS HOME IN KIRKWOOD.

One of the Most Novel Scenes Ever Wit nessed at the Union Depot-A Mass of Women and Children of all Sizes and Colors-How the Day Was Spent in the ness, pulled out of the Union Depot this morning. It was the Bethel Sunday - school excursion to Kirkwood, given at H.C. Townsend, Gen eral passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific. Mr. Townsend notified the managers of the Bethel a week or so ago that he would be pleased to have the members of the Sunday-school visit him to-day at his home in transportation for all who would attend, and see to it that they spent the day in an enjoyable manner. The kind invitation was glading of the Bethel School assembled at the Union generously provided. They came from all firections, and were of all sizes and ages, colored and white. The condition of all, however, was the same. They were all poor and the anticipation of a day in the country with plenty of good things to eat and all the milk they could drink, made their hearts flutter out as credentials for transportation was 9 a. m., but as early as 8 o'clock women with children and lunch baskets began to arrive at were very cleanly, though their garments were poor. This has been one of the great accomplishments of the Bethel Mission-to teach all who belong to it that "cleanliness is next to Godliness." Capt. S. W. Baird, one of the assistant superintendents, and Mrs. Margaret Skinner and Mrs. M. G. Able, the two ady missionaries of the Bethel, were on the ground early and exercised supervision over the crowd. This was no easy matter, for be fore a quarter of 9 o'clock there was close onto 1,000 women and children assembled on the platform, and as quite a considerable portion of this number were boys, the vigilance required to guard against accident from the constantly moving trains can be imagined. It must be said to the credit of the young people, however, that they were remarkably well behaved, and were quick to obey any command of those who had authority over them. The mixed crowd occasioned a good deal of comment from those who were waiting the departure of trains which were to make much longer, but probably not pleasanter, journeys than the special for which the Bethelites were waiting. "What is this, anyhow?" was the question heard on every side.

Those who knew informed the questioners of the meaning of the gathering and the general comment then was:
"Weil, now, that is what I call real charty." 1,000 women and children assembled on the

A Squabble in Boston.

Boston, June 22.—The surprising fact leaked out to-night that the City of Boston is the owner of the land on which the Bunker Hill Monument stands. When the trouble arose over the tablets which the city authorities wished to erect to commemorate the sian, the Monument Association refused permission, because the list of names was incomplete and because one of the tablets bore the names of the Aldermen and Councilmen who originated the scheme. The city's tablets have therefore been placed in Winthrop Square. In the meantime the Corporation Counsel was asked to look up the ownerships of the sacred hill, and he finds it is not the property of the association, as has always been supposed, but is public ground. What action, if any, the of-rended city fathers will now take, is a subject of curious comment. Boston, June 22 .- The surprising fact leaked

MR. GEORGE TESHORCK, the head assistant superintendent of the Sunday-school, arrived at the depot about twenty minutes before the train started and at once began the work of forming the boys and girls in line so that there would be no rush for the cars in casy one, but he succeeded admirably, and in about ten minutes had a line formed with the boys in the lead, the girls next and the grown people bringing up the rear. In this manner they were marched to the train of ten coaches and a bagyage car which stood waiting on the fifth track. It did not take in manner they were marched to the train then pulled out, the joyal excursionists waving their handkerchiefs out of the winters and with banners flying marched to the home of their benefactor, Mr. Townsend and when the excursionists got off they formed in line and with banners flying marched to the home of their benefactor, Mr. Townsend. They spent the day pleasurably on his grounds and in the fields adjoining. The boys played base ball, the girls croquet and tennis, and all drank milk and partook of the good things which Mrs. Townsend and several other Kirkwood ladies had generously prepared for them.

Julius Harris, the efficient "scribe" of the Julius Harris, the efficient "scribe" of the order, will soon embark in a new business enterprise and he counts on the assistance of his friends in furthering its success.

Ben Heyle, Collector of Future Council, is in the saddlery business, but, notwithstanding this fact, Ben is a good judge of cigars, Wainwright's "Pretty Maids," flowers and everything else that is particularly nice. Many of the boys of Future Council are similarly situated.

Brother Mai Recommendation of the council are similarly situated.

the boys of Future Council are similarly situated.

Brother Mat Bonn speaks highly of Garfield Council, and wants it understood that they are among the promptassessment payers.

Hendricks Council consains more politicians to the square inch than can be found with a microscope at the City Hall. Everybody, from Maj. Harrigan to Marshal Joyce, talks for tariff reform, while the course of protection has but a single advocate, and he is a "kicker" by name as well as by nature.

Marquette, commonly known as Blackstone Council, can accomplish more at a meeting with an attendance of six members than most of the council can with, thirty. Brothers Overbeck, Griffen, Sommelville, Davis and the "Old Roman" Secretary are all good parliamentarians and do things up in ship-shape.

De Soto Council contains a number of members great in name and stature and great on bers great in name and stature and great on staying away from council meetings. It also has some hustlers.

For some time past the familiar face of Mr. J. Webb has been sadly missed from the council hali. It is now learned that he has been seriously ill, his life being despaired of on several occasions. Information is now to the effect that he is much better and hopes to be in his accustomed place in a short time.

Comp. Bashford off Jackson Council has presented the names of ten candidates to that organization within the past month. Would that the order had more such workers!

Garfield Council meets at Thirteenth and Wright streets every Friday evening. It is one of the 'progresslye' councils of the city, and with Secretary Mat Bonn and Past Com. Bothe at the helm is fast forging to the city, and with Secretary Mat Bonn and Past Com. Bothe at the helm is fast forging to the city. Thr. The picnic was a big success. On the basebail damond the Kensingtons defeated the Emerald Cadets by the professional score of 1 to 0. The ladies' race was very amusing. But where was Charlie Hunt? He was missed by the picnickers.

George Washington Council, Nor 214, held a very pleasant meeting last Thursday evening, d had several initiations. On account of 194 failing on Thursday, the next meeting will be held Tuesday, July 2. Meetings ary list and 5d Thursday of the month. Aniel Webster Council, 678, gives a basket onle and railroad excursion to Lake Ramona June 22. Frizes will be given for beat aces, foot races, ladies' races, base bail contests, athletic exercises, etc. A gold headed cane will be voted to the most popular gentleman on the grounds.

Without doubt Mr. Felix Keating, the East St. Louis member, has brought as many meminate into the ranks as any worker in this juris-

Council and to himself. He is doing good wook.

"Progressive" is now the subject of general debate in Legion circles. To encourage "them literary fellers," Julius Harris will, on September I, give a prize of a pair of $5 shoes to the writer who sends him the best essay on that subject.

You can see the razzle-dazzle degree worked to perfection after October 1, at Lafayette's Hall, on Ninth street and Franklin avenue.

Mozart Council meets every Wednesday evening in the hall at Fifteenth street and Cass avenue. Mozart's crowd is a joliv one and the members are easy to get acquainted with. Pay them a visit.

Sheehan says nothing and saws wood. But they say that "still water runs deep." Sommerville, you had better look out.

The fact that the POST-DISPATCH had published an item in regard to the debate on "is Marriage a Failure?" drew a large crowd to Lafayette's Hall. The ladles were there in full force and fasisted that the harness fit fairly well in St. Louis. A large number of those present took an active part in the debate, the remarks running to various extremes. M. J. Concer thought marriage was a success, but likened it to a lottery drawing with an equal number of prizes and worse than blanks. Doyle insisted that it was a grand success and expressed himself as much pleased with the attendant duties and obligations. Sinnott said that everything depended upon your companion. "I've been married," he remarked, "and it was first-rate, but I would much rather chase around with the boys and go home in the morning if I want to." Brock thought the game was a success and wanted the official soorer to give him credit with three singles and a two-base nit. Elbrect, Adams, Fitzpatrick and Ryan have baid spots on their heads and they leave the question of success to a discriminating public. They acknowledge that they are prejudiced. John A. is also prejudiced, but it is in favor of his lovely wife, who was with him at the meeting. John shows his good sense. Schmidt gave a comical version of his experience. He alleged that it was a great undertaking for a man in moderate circumstances to start out on a protracted honeymoon. "It is all right at first," he said, "but in a short time you don't care whether school keeps or not." The next debate on this subject will be held at Daniel Webster Council on Friday evening next, at their hall, 624 Locust street. Myrtle, lyy, Irene, Lafayette, Future and other representative councils have promised to send able representa

He says: "The first question a man naturally asks is, "How much does it cost?" Tell him it costs per thousand just as much as he is years of age. For age of 30, 30 cents per thousand; age of 35, 35 cents per thousand."

Future Great has been named the "Dry Goods Council" on account of the number of "Knights of the Tape" on its $\mathbf{y}$ item.

ments for their picnic to be given on the ciation at Meramec Park, fifteen miles west of the city on the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, July 21. Two trains will be run from the city to the grounds, leaving the Union Depot at 8 and 9:30 a. m. and returning at 6:30 and 7:30 p. m. Transportation to and from and including admission to the grounds will be placed at the low figure of 50 cents. A permanent dancing pavilion with good flooring and complete appointments has been erected on the park grounds, also shelter for a colossal assemblage in case of rain. A boathouse on the Meramec River will be equipped with an ample number of boats for pleasure riding and fishing. One of the best string and brass bands in the city has been secured, and Mizpah Lodge is determined that their guests can rely upon a first-class entertainment. The various sub-committees, to have charge will be appointed at the next meeting of the Executive Committee.

Banner Lodge, No. 12, will initiate two candidates to night, and there will no doubt be an unusually large attendance, as the Committee on the Fourth of July Picnic will an meeting of the Executive Committee.

Banner Lodge, No, 13, will initiate two candidates to-night, and there will no doubt be an unusually large attendance, as the Committee on the Fourth of July Picnic will announce the various committees appointed for that occasion. F. W. Judge, J. F. Ryan and C. T. Kincaid, the Executive Committee, will go to Normandy to-morrow to complete the final arrangements for the celebration, and judging from the interest manifested by the members, this event will far surpass anything ever undertaken by Hanner Lodge.

The competitive drills will be an attractive feature of the occasion, and the Select Knights will have a good representation to make the competition very interesting for the prize offered. Other semi-military organizations who have not already signified their intention of competing should communicate the fact to J. F. Ryan, as the committee is desirous of having all entries made before the lat of July.

The Overseer, an official organ of the order, is out for June, and contains a representation of the Upchurch monument which is to be placed over the grave of the founder of the order in Beliefontaine Cemetery. The lot on which it will be placed belongs to the order. It is circular in shape, and surrounded by coping. A massive platform will be placed in front of a step bearing on each side the letters A. O. U. W. On the face of the post are the letters C.H. and P.The monument consists of three bases, a die, cap and shaft. The lower base is eight feet square; in the second base the name "Upchurch" will appear in large raised letters. On the third base rests the die, a massive block four feet square, with highly polished columns and carved capitals on each corner. On the face the emblems, anchor and shield will be carved. Above the die rests the cap on each side of which heavy foliage will be carved, and on this stands the shaft, a solid plece of granite 26 feet high. The total height of the monument is over thirty-eight feet. The material used will be shipped from Barre, Vt.

"Official Reporter" of Alpha Council, was Thursday night regularly appointed and confirmed to that office, to take effect from June 1.

Brother G. A. Weber, the popular Signal Officer, was on Alpha's floor Thursday night, and the warm greeting he received evidenced his bigh standing in the council and the esteem in which he is held.

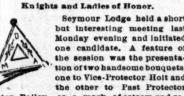

Brother Tom Haziett, ex-Trustee of Alpha, now residing in Texas, was enthusiastically received when he entered the hall Thursday night.

Ed Wright, the musical manager of Alpha's big entertainments is missed—so is his talent. Ed advances some great ideas and they are appreciated, too.

Take a look at the new stud Geo. W. Davis is sporting on his shirt front. It don't cost anything to look.

Sig. Aler of Alpha is young in years but old in experience. He is making a good member. You would be surprised to note how many L. of H. pins and badges you can notice in an ordinary jaunt about the city. And those who wear them have them in a conspicuous piace, and they are proud of them one to Vice-Protector Holt and the other to Past Protector Sister Balley, as a mark of esteem and respect. Secretary Harry McCready made the presentation speech. After the meeting closed the members formed in line, marshaled by Vice-Protector Holt, and marched to the Hail of Hyperion Lodge to pay that lodge a fraternal visit. Seymour Lodge was well received, and they soon were made to feel at home under the watchful eye of Protector Bro. Giles. Speeches and songs were the order of the evening. Past Protector McCready of Seymour Lodge, and they soon were made to feel at home under the watchful eye of Protector Bro. Giles. Speeches and songs were the order of the evening. Past Protector McCready of Seymour Lodge, No. 563, at their convention last Monday elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Protector, Otto Gombert, re-elected; P. P., Kessling; Vice-Protector, George Schultz; Secretary, Maria Neustedter; Financial Secretary, Sister Mellert; Guide, Maria Gombert; Chaplain, Sister Reiss; Treasurer, Christ Ruh; Sentinel, Bro. Koenig; Guardian, Christiana Koenig, Missouri Lodge at present has an immense boom. It is getting in new members almost as fast as they can be initiated. The installation of the newly-elected officers will take place on July 1.

Triumphant Lodge, No. 1049, Knights and Ladies of Honor, will hold its fourth anniversary celebration at Creve Cour Lake on Thursday, June 27, and members of all sister lodges are invited to spend the day with their friends at this retreat. Good music will be furnished and amusements in abundance. Shelter will be at hand in case of rain. The excursion train leaves the Union Depot at 9 o'clock a. m. sharp.

Pride of the West Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, held a rousing meeting last Thursday, a good attendance being present notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. Several visitors from sister lodges were present. The effection of officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows: W. W. Graves, Past Protector; George Gershon, Protector; Julia Kutn SS. Mary and Joseph's Council. No. 9, at its last meeting initiated four candidates and received four applications. This council is having quite a boom of late, and Bro. John F. Roach says that if the council does not win the first prize in the base bail league it will not be for want of players.

St. Thomas of Aquin Council, No. 27, at its last meeting initiated five candidates. The members of the Executive Board being 'present, remarks for the good of the order were made by members of the board and by Father Brennan and C. S. K. Finnnagan. immediately after the visitors were invited into the anto-room where Father Brennan and his co-laborera had a surprise feast prepared for them. The visit was an enjoyable one, as nothing was left undone which would make it pleasant.

To-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a Corpus Christi procession at the Rock Church on Grand avenue. The procession will be headed by the Christian Brothers' Band. Then will come the Redemptorist Fathers, one of whom will carry the blessed sacrament exposed. Following will be the sodalities of the parish and the congregation. The procession will move all around the church and school grounds. The feast of Corpus Christi occurred on Thursday, but it has been the custom in the Rock Church parish to have the procession on the Sunday following. The procession is always a great event to the members of the church.

The rain on last Thursday evening greatly interfered with the attendance at the entertainment given by the Rock Church School pupils and by request it will be repeated again on Tuesday evening. The performance will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Among the features will be a drama particularly appropriate to centennial year, entitled "Liberty Seeking a Home."

PROTECTIVE ABSURDITY.

The protective system as applied to labor is placed in a queer light by the case of the Catholic University of America.

The faculty of this institution, desiring o secure learned professors of theology from Europe, submitted the question whether it would be lawful to do so to the Treasury Department. The Solicitor of the Treasury made answer that the importation of the professors under any contract, express or implied, would be s violation of the alien contract law. The question will now be submitted to the Attorney-General for final decision.

Of course, a decision against this faculty vill amount practically to a decision that no professors, no inventors, no preacher, no teacher of useful arts, nor any eminent scientist, engineer or adept in mechanics can be obtained from another country by citizens of this country for any purpose whatsoever. In other words the most enlightened and progressive country in world voluntarily shuts itself A LONG list of appointments, consular off from all the advantages of instruction from aliens whose ability, House yesterday, but a careful scrutiny study and research make them leaders of the list with a powerful magnifying and teachers of art, science or philosophy. glass failed to reveal the name of a Mis- This is done in order that their superior sourian among the appointees. A high fence studded with pikes is | 18 PERHAPS one reason that the State superior knowledge may creep in, and in order that our own students, inventors and investigators may rise to the level of outside competitors without suffering competition. It is like insisting that a child shall learn to swim without going into the water. We place an embargo on ability and attainments which will add to our own wealth of capacity and accomplishments. This appears to be the reduction to an absurdity of the protective principle. But it is no more absurd than the law out of which this rises and which prevents a manufacturer obtaining machinery and new materials where they are cheapest and best, or a consumer obtaining commodities where it suits his taste and pocketbook.

NEW YORK's compulsory education bill would have justified the veto it encountered even if its compulsory features had been less drastic and objectionable. While the school accommodations of New York are inadequate and absenteeism is made practically compulsory it is absurd to make attendance compulsory by law. A political trading outfit to be used in fur bill that undertakes to control education by private tutors or governesses, which unishes parents for not sending their children to ill-ventilated schools in which there is no room for them, and which provides criminal incarceration in reform schools as a remedy for compulsory truancy, is nothing but a legislative monstrosity.

This action was taken several days ago, and extra precautions were taken to prevent any information of it becoming public. These precautions were much even than those generally taken, and they are in all cases very strict, as the board gives out no information whatever, except that "routine business only was transacted, of no fact to give the public a chance to forget that nies and agents, formed and maintained for

as follows:

Such notices are generally signed by Mr. Ed Acton, the Secretary of the Board, but in his case it seemed to be of sufficient impor-ance to require the signature of the President tance to require the signature of the President to give it more weight.

No cause being given for the action taken, a Posr-Disparch reporter called at the office of the board to gain further information. Secretary Acton could give nothing more on it, and was not authorized to discuss the matter in any way. President Waterworth was the only person with the authority to make public announcements, and he was appealed to.

Other members of the board were appealed Other members of the board were appealed to, but without any success. They all agreed that it was a matter that did not concern the public, and that it should not be made public, as it could do no good. One of them yielded to the extent of saying:

"Mr. Bersch was expelled for the simple reason that he did not do what he agreed on his honor to do. He broke his word, and that is all there is to it."

"What did he agree to do?"

"He agreed to maintain certain rates and he did not do it. He was simply dealt with as any other member would be and has no reason to complain."

did not do it. He was simply dealt with as any other member would be and has no reason to complain."

MR. BERSCH WAS MORE EXPLICIT, as when seen he at once consented to give the entire trouble, sis far as he could.

'The trouble, 's far as he could.

'The trouble,'' he said, has been brewing for some time. We were out of the board for about six months up to two years ago, when we were induced to go into it again. We were coing a good business, of the character of what is known as glit-edged, that is taking risks on dwellings, small stores, furniture, etc. Everything we did was in small lines and outside of that rated by the board. We had a large acquaintance and good companies and devoting our attention to these small lines rather than to manufactories and large mercantile houses, we of course secured a large proportion of all the business done in the line. The balance was largely divided among the home mutual companies. The business is easily handled, the losses are few and small, and the ratio of profit is, of course, much larger than in big risks, where there are greater dangers of fire and smaller oppertunity to cut down the loss. For this reason the regular board agents desired to divide t up, and as the first step in carrying out the plan got us into their combine. They then included the outside business in shelr schedules and bine. They then included the outside business in shelr schedules and ADVANCED THE RATES ONE-THERD over what we had been charging. They had never paid any attention to this outside business before, and never gave any indication of an intention to fix the rates on it. Had they done so we would never have gone into the organization. However, right where there was the most competition among agents to secure business, because it was without doubt the oream of everything offering, they suddenly jumped figures up to one-third above what we had been writing policies at. The eff of was not what they expected, as our business generally remained with us, hill the home mutuals and other thad one taken away by other old stock company in the board. You see more than any other class, but they proved to be the class also who stand by those who have treated them honestly, and as our position was very well understood, we lost nothing."

"Would not the advance in the rates force the business out of the board altogether?"

"Of course that would be the tendency on the face of it, but to fully understand the case one should also have a knowledge of insurance matters in St. Louis. There is a certain amount of this outside business that goes to the home mutual companies under any circumstances. On the balance the more prominent agents would have the advantage, as they are the ruling factors in the board, and can do about as they please.
There are some agents in St. Louis who are never questioned, though they regularly do an underground business and cut a rate whonever its necessary to do so. The agents who write small lines, and who have no influence in the board, are expected to secure board rates every time, and they are watched like hawks, too, to see that they do so. This brings it down to a plain proposition of the strong against the weak, the big agents endeavoring to crowd out the little ones and thus confine the business in fewer hands, and to that extent strengthening their combine. In this case, however,

as when we went into the board, and this was followed by the rating of outside business, a number of non-poard agents came in, backed by some of the stanchest companies in the United States, as, for instance, the Germania of New York, a $5,000,000 company. They did not look for this and were considerably surprised. They did not, however, follow a business course and put the rates down on a reasonable basis, but continued those they had already fixed. The result was, instead of securing business and crowding out the small fish, as they expected to do when they got us in, with a few others, they threw more business to the home mutuals and opened the doors to admit non-board companies to a prooficial affects.

in, with a few others, they threw more business to the home mutuals and opened the doors to admit non-board companies to a profitable field for business. We were placed between two contending elements, the one working patiently to enforce high rates and obtain a monopoly of the business and the other striving to secure business at living rates. We were held to a rigid compliance with board rates and could get

NO ASSISTANCE TO MEET COMPETITION from the board. If a non-board agent came along and offered a one-half rate to secure risks we had held for years the board would not allow us to meet it in any way, and we simply had to grin and bear it, as the board's rules and rulings are the most arbitrary of any known. Just such a case happened, and it is responsible for our being expelled. We had one of the best risks in the city, one of the brightest of all the gittedged, and on its expiration were confronted by an offer from a non-board agent to take the risk at .75. We had held it for a long time at the board rate, 1.15, and we could not afford to lose it, even if we had to take it at that kind of a reduction. So we took it at .75, without applying to the board, as we had had experiwith the result that we were found guilty and expelled. The board, however, departed from its rules, which provide that whenever charges are preferred against a member he must deposit $50 with the treasurer. This is on the supposition that he is guilty, and it remains with him to prove himself innocent before the money is returned. The trial is before a committee of three members, one of whom is selected by the board, and another by the accused, these two deciding upon the third member. In our case we simply paid no attention to the notification that charges had been preferred against us, and that we had the privilege of naming one member of a committee of three before whom we could appear for trial. The result, however, would have been the same had we appeared.

NO EXCUSE OF COMPETTION would be the same old arbitrary one returned in the case of every small line agent who does not happen to be 'in the swim.''

"It means to board members, in the language of the rules, 'absolute non-intercourse.' Any member who does business with us now is liable to be expelled. If a member has a line of insurance he cannot fill out without coming to me he must go outside, to the underground people, or allow the insurer to suffer. Railway Development in Canada

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. OTTAWA, June 22 .- Additional interest been drawn to Dominion railways through the recent order of the Treasury Department at Washington in refusing to allow the transport, in bond, of goods going from one Canadian port to another over the Short Line Railway, recently constructed by the Canadian Pacific to St. John. New Brunswick, way, recently constructed by the Canadian Pacific to St. John, New Brunswick, through the State of Maine. The Government here contend that under section 20 of the Washington treaty this privilege was conceded to Canada as regards the transport in bond over all American railways, which privilege the Dominion now enjoys except in the case cited above. The manner in which railway construction has been pushed forward in Canada during the past eight years, is probably without parallel in the history of any country of its population.

The annual report of the Minister of Railways, recently issued, furnishes some interesting facts on this-point.

In 1880 the total paid up capital of the railways of Canada amounted to $371,051,193, having increased in 1885 to $727,181,448, an increase of 96 per cent. While there was this marked increase in net earnings was only 76 per cent. Comparing 1880 with 1883 operating expenses increased from $16.840,716 to $30,652,046, or 82 per cent, while gross earnings increased from $23,381,447 to $42,199,-192, or 80 per cent. The total miss of railway completed increased from 7,229 miles to 12,701 miles, or 74 per cent, and the mileage run by trains from 29,427,449 to 37,331,206 miles, or 68 per cent. The total number of passengers earried increased from 10,363,634 to 11,415,791, or, only 10 per cent, while freight traffic increased from 9,38,856 to 17,172,759 tons, or 71 per cent. Up to the present time the Dominion and Provincial Governments have, in assisting or aiding railway construction, paid in the way of bonuses of loans $155,198,304 to the several companies now operating in dependent construction, paid in the way of bonuses of loans $155,198,304 to the several companies now operating in the Dominion. This is independent of the several appropriations made by Parliament since 1882, by which all new companies since that date are receiving a subsidy ranging from $1,600 to $6,400 per mile. In the aggregate the railway subsidy rates under this arrangement had, up to last session, reached $14,006,736.

Sir John MacDonald states, when spoken to with reference to the refusal of the Treasury Department to allow the transport of goods in bond through Maine, that he is determined in every possible way to encourage and aid railway construction throughout the dominion to secure to Canada independent lines, that they may not have to rely upon caprices of the executive at Washington, at whose mercy the people of Canada have hitherto been. It is stated in official circles that the Dominion Government are considering the advisability of withdrawing the bonding privilege over the Canada Southern.

TRUNK LINE PRESIDENTS.

Rates-Commissioner Fink. By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. ine presidents has been called for Thursday next to consider the matter of dressed-beef rates and the allowance of mileage on private cars. On July 1 the old contracts at lower rates on dressed beef will expire except that of the B. & O., which ran for five years, but the road hopes to terminate this with the asistance of the other lines and Commissione sistance of the other lines and Commissioner Fink. It is expected, therefore, that a successful effort may be made to secure more remunerative rates on this class of traffic.

As regards the use of private cars on the trunk lines, the only road now permitting them to be used with any special profit to the owners is the Graud Trunk of Canada, which has been receiving from the Chicago & Grand Trunk cars that have been transferred to other orwanizations and relettered, but still receive a mileage return by indirect methods. The Grand Trunk, however, has expressed its willingness to cease paying any mileage The Grand Trunk, however, has expressed its willingness to cease paying any mileage allowance on such cars, and it is believed that this question can be amicably adjusted. The meeting of the Western roads will precede the Trunk Line meeting of Wednesday for the purpose of arranging a presentation of several matters for the consideration of the Eastern Presidents. It is doubtful if any action will be taken with regard to Commissioner Fink's resignation, except to arrange for the conduct of business in his absence. The summer season usually requires little service from the Commissioner and definite action to secure a successor will be probably delayed in the hope that he may return from Europe entirely restored in health and able to resume his duties.

They have expressed a hope that the Chicago roads will adopt a similar course in regard to Western and Missouri traffic as soon as possible. A committee of three has been appointed to see that the tariffs are made in accordance with the idea of stopping existing discrimination against Chicago, and if the railroads fall to carry out their promises in that respect the committee is authorized to take such action as it may deem best to secure redress. Another committee of three has been appointed to confer and act in conjunction with the railroads in establishing a hasing line for through rates, the idea being to draw a line from Lake Superior through Chicago to the Ohio River, and make rates so as to prevent Lake Superior competition from entering this Territory.

The latter wanted the rates reduced to a basis of 60 cents and scaled down to 23, while the "Soo" officials thought 75 cents low enough. The present rates via the "Soo" are on a basis of 85 cents. First Vice-President and General Manager of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co., and he admitted that the railroad company was the real owner of the Lexington Coal Co. 's mines, and that he was a director of the coal company. The examination of the Superintendent of the Lexington Co.'s mines was resumed when the board reconvened this morning.

The Commissioners ruled that he books of the coal company should be produced, and considerable time was consumed in an examination of the various ledgers. These books showed the number of cars demanded by each coal company as well as the number furnished to the different shippers. The entries disclosed the fact that the Lexington Coal Co. and the Bolen Coal Co. were furnished all the cars they wanted, while the other companies could get no cars. During one period of ten days the Sewell company could not get a single ear, while the books showed that during that same period there was a surplus of from three to ten cars per day at the Bolen company's and the Lexington company's mines.

S. H. H. Clark then took the stand. He testified that he was an official of the Missouri Pacific Railway, and also a director of the Lexington Coal Co. In order to be elected a director a share of stock in the coal company had been assigned to him without consideration. He kept it about ten days and retransferred it in blank to the Missouri Pacific Railway, however, he had been elected a director of the coal company. In reply to a question by Atterney Brown, as to whether he knew that he was acting contrary to law, Mr. Clark refused to answer, and was sustained by the Commissioners.

refused to answer, and was sustained by the Commissioners.

C. G. Warner, Auditor of the Missouri Pacific Railway, the next witness, testified that he was also Auditor of the Lexington Coal Co., and of all other mining properties owned by the Missouri Pacific. He said that, practically, all of the Lexington company's stock was owned by the railroad company. He regarded the coal business as one of the regular departments of the road, just as much as the freight traffic. He further testified that the cost of coal at the mines was $1.40 per ton, and that it was hauled to Kansas City for 65 cents a ton, making the total cost $2.05 /per ton. In explanation of how the Bolen Coal Co. was able to sell coal for $2 per ton, he said it was because the Bolen was allowed a rebate of 65 cents a ton, which other dealers did not receive.

Daring Mariner Who Proposes to Pass

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. NIAGARA FALLS, June 22 .- Carlisle D. Grarapids of its death-dealing notoriety by contructing a boat that passed in safet the mad'ning waters of the gorge will, during July, make an attempt which will either eclipse all other performances at Niagara or result in death. He proposes to go over the Horseshoe Falls and take the chances of being dashed to death on the rocks, suffocated by submersion in the undertow or coming out alive. This is a feat that never yet has been performed in safety, nor has it ever been attempted, for heretofore all have looked upon it as sure death. But to go into the upper rapids, pass down the river to the brink of the Horseshoe Falls, drop the distance of nearly 200 feet to the tempestances to the tempestation. The craft in which he will endeavor to do this is named the "World," and is 11½ feet long and is shaped something like a cigar or torpedo boat. Amidships it is 40 inches in diameter and at the ends 19. The center compartment can hold two persons, but they would be crowded closely fogether, for the space is only 43 by 40 inches and the paddle-wheels on the sides and steering apparatus result in death. He proposes to go over the would be crowded closely together, for the space is only 43 by 40 inches and the paddiewheels on the sides and steering apparatus have to be worked from within. The sides wheels work together or separately, so that if the steering apparatus breaks they can be used to turn the boat's course. But there will not be much chance to do any navigating in the twenty-mile-an-hour rapids. Enfrance to the middle compartment is through a turret, a listle like those on monitors, which has four lookouts for the occupants, the little windows being closed with plate glass. The two end compartments are four feet long and each can hold two persons of ordinary size. The barrel is bound with twenty-four iron bands and is made of strong though not heavy oak and cedar staves. It was built by Graham said: "Yes, I'm going to make the attempt. I have been through the rapids three times and I feet I can do this act in safety". Graham is 35 years old, a cooper by trade and was born near Philadelphia.

The nuisance has become intolerable. Within the past few days a number of arrests have been made and the defendants prosecuted in the First District Police Court. On account of the extreme youth of the majority of the offenders Judge Cady has been extremely lenient in the matter, the fines imposed being remitted in almost every instance. The practice has reached such proportions, however, that he has determined to take decisive action. This morning no less than fourteen juvenile offenders pleaded for mercy at his hands, but he was inexorable and in every case where the specific act could be clearly proven, he assessed a fine of $5 and costs, with the remark that he would make the penalty heavier and heavier if the dangerous practice was not discontinued. LOUISVILLS, June 22.—Whisky men here are much elated over the defeat of Prohibition in Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. They they have seen the last of the crusade; long time and that liquor will sell freely, in addition to restricted production will prices up, and the trade will see the best since the disastrous over-production of years ago. A leading dealer said yester "I expect to clear $60,000 in my ousness year. The tone of the market is firmer I have known in a long time."

Paul Jones, a wealthy dealer who came from Atlanta when that place went "d three years ago has bought $200,000 wor' 55s, '86s and '87s and Cincinnal houses also buying freely.

tide of advancement is upon them, and it is not of the mushroom order, either. "It has come to stay," declared a capitalist this morning. "Nothing can now prevent us from marching on to victory," and, as he spoke, two gentlemen passed and wended their way towards the City Hall, evidently desirous of obtaining an interview with the city's representative. Calling at THE MAYOR'S OFFICE and ascertaining that he had not arrived so early, they strolled about the city for a couple of hours, noting minutely every building and important object. They returned at about 10 o'clock and seating themselves in the Mayor's sanctum, unfolded their desires. They stated their names as Jean F. Webb, Sr., of Lebanon and J. Alexander of Belleville. The former represents an electric railway company and the latter is manager of the Belleville Street Car Line. Each thoroughly understood the situation of stairs in East St. Lonis, and was ready and manager of the Believille Street Car Line.
Each thoroughly understood the situation of affairs in East St. Louis, and was ready and willing to invest his capital and reap the benefits that would surely result from such a proceeding. Mr. Webb's plan is to organize and operate an electric rallway from the stock yard down Collinsville avenue, connnecting with the bridge system and passing over that structure to St. Louis, thereby allowing parties residing in that remote section the privilege of a continuous ride to the Metropolis of the West for a single fare and relieving them of much trouble and discomfort. This plan of rallway is the one which meets with universal approbation, although there are many other applicants for a franchise. The people

It did not connect with the bridge and passengers, after jogging along at a snail's pace, upon arriving at the bridge were met with the bridge with the condition of the with the brown with the bridge were met with the brown of information that "the bus would start in fitteen minutes." Now fifteen minutes to a person of business principles means a great outlay of time. With the new motor the traveling public will be carried from the most remote corner of the city to Third street in St. Louis in less time than they could now cross the river with the present facilities. The fare, too, for the new transportation will be much less than present or former charges. The authorities will not grant a franchise to any corporation which intends to use it as a speculative investment. A movement is also on foot to CONNECT THIS CITT AND BELLEVILLE with an overhead electric line, and although the scheme has not reached that point where it could be spoken of as a certainty, it is, nevertheless, seriously contemplated. Men have been sent here to look over the ground and glean all the information possible shout the matter. In fact, the parties are here now, and before Monday moruling a proposition will be placed in the hands of the city's guardians, asking them for certain privileges pertaining to this very road. The idea seems to be operated under that system. The franchise could be easily transferred to this new company to the injury of no one. The new road is a fixture beyond a doubt, and is only one of the many ties which will bind the common interests of St. Louis, East St. Louis and Belleville.

CHICAGO, June 22 .- A special dispatch from finneapolis, Minn., says: The rumored indietment of the "Soo" rallroad officials for an alleged violation of section 2 of the interan alleged violation of section 2 of the interstate commerce law seems thus far to be confined, to a letter that United States District Attorney Baxter received from Thomas M. Cooley, Chairman of the interstate Commerce Commission. The section referred to prohibits any discrimination in making rates for one shipper over another. Judge Cooley's letter contained a copy of the "Soo" rate sheet, together with a way-bill of the Ransas City road, which indicates that the "Soo" took a consignment of alcohol originating at some point not stated on the Kansas City from St. Paul to New York for 47½ per 100, a cit under the published tariff rate for that diass of goods.

Mr. Baxter said, when asked as to what course he should take: "The information contained in Judge Cooley's letter is quite vague, and I thought it best to ask for ficher particulars before proceeding with the see, as it is doubtful whether indictments wild agiven by the United States Grand-jury in the evidence at hand. I have written to Judge Gooley and when his reply is received I will go ahead with the case. I presume he has more definite information."

General Freight Agent Shute of the "Soo" said: "I know nothing of any such move. The tariff sheets of the road are all right, and to my knowledge there is nothing that can be charged against the road of this character."

It Will Probably Be Given to the Jury Thi

The case against John David Sheafor the murder of Officer Patrick Doran is almost concluded. The State closed its case late last the opening of the court morning. But few witnesses examined. The defense was examined. The defense was that Shea had shot the officer in self-defense, the prisoner's statement being to the effect that he had been struck and almost killed by the officer, who had attacked him without the slightest provocation. In the madness occasioned by the blow he drew his revolver and fired the fatal shot. At 1 p. m. the testimony was all in and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Bishop addressed the jury, opening for the defense. Judge Thomas gave his instructions, which were for murder in the first and second degrees and manslaughter in the fourth degree. At 1:30 an adjournment was taken for dinner, and upon the reopening of court Attorney S. S. Bass opened for the defense. It is expected that the arguments will be completed in time to give the case to the jury this evening.

sort or woodland retreat could have been more charming than the Highlands of Rose Hill.

People went out in crowds to buy home sites. They had read of the great auction of lots that were to be sold there under the hammer and of the preparations also that had been made for the entertainment of the multitude invited to attend the sale. The perfect day and occasion proved to be a popular attraction not only for people who intended buying, but for a great many others who wanted to enjoy the pionic and witness the management of and excitement incident to one of the largest auctions that has been held here in many years.

The chief actor on the programme was Philip S. Lanham, whose ready wit from the auction block has amused people for well nigh forty years. All things had been made ready for him by the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co., which conducted the sale. The firm, wish the auctioneer and its clerical force, occupied three open carriages, which were at all times the center or attraction as the sale progressed from block to block over the wast area of 10,000 front feet of ground. Ten furniture wans were upon the grounds conveying parties free of chargefrom one point to another of the tract, keeping at all times, though, within easy hearing of the auctioneer's voice. The people arrived both by the Easton avenue cable and the Narrow-gauge roads, and a good many drove out in carriages through Chamberlain Park, Cabanne and Bartmer places. At 1 o'clock the early-comers were regaled with refreshments at the corner of Goodfellow and Easton avenues, the headquarters of the commissary department, which had been stocked with twenty kegs of beer, a barrei of lemonade, 200 loaves of bread, 150 pounds of sausage, three cases of cheese, two firkins of butter and six quarts of mustard.

After the engagement had been opened at this point bidding began, and as the line advanced two negroes with provisions and attendants brought upthe rear, dispensing comfort to those who were hungry and thirsty. At 3:30 o'clock a halt was made at Hamilton and Wells avenues when the full commissary train was brought to the front for reinforcement, and from there on the sale was continued to the end without interruption. As rapidly as the lots were knocked down the successful bidders were sought out by Guide McDonaid and conducted to the secretary and cashier's carriage, where their earnest money was taken and promptly receipted for.

There was a fair attendance at 1 o'clock, everything at that time indicating a successful sale. Every few minutes brought fresh arrivals by cars, furniture wagons, carriages and buggles, and for time reason the opening of the auction was delayed. Up to 2 o'clock not a single lot has been offered, Messrs. Hammett-Anderson & Wade deeming it best to wait a little longer, so that no one could complain of not having been given ample opportunity to bid upon some of the choicest property. In all probability the sale will be continued until sun down. A full report of the purchases will be given in the Sunday's Post-Disparch.

The greatest amount of news is in the Sunday THE DEBTS OF LORD BEACONSFIELD.

How He Was Aided in His Political Aspirations by Mrs. Wyndham Lewis. Lord Beaconsfield was a poor man all his life, says a writer in Frank Leslie's Magazine, for the reason that until shortly before his death he had never paid off his early liabilities. The fortune left him by Mr. Brydges Williams cleared them off, and he paid every penny he owed. Lady Beaconsfield's fortun was here only for her life, and she was not able to leave him anything of importance; but in the early part of his married life she assisted him with his election expenses, and, except for his marriage, the probability is he could never have stemmed the tide of money difficulties which always hampered him.

In the first days of their friendship Lady Beaconfield must have helped him largely, for a circumstantial story was told by the Conservative agent at Maidstone, for which place Lord Beaconfield sat—that at his first election, when things looked bad for the Conservative candidate, and the Liberals were spending their money freely, Mr. Disraeli came into the garden behind the Star Hotel, the Conservative head quarters, and throwing himself down on the grass, declared that he should be beaten, and that if so, his career was over, and he was ruined. Mrs. Wyndham Lewis, who was alting there, attempted to cheer him and raise his hopes; but finding that course unsuccessful, shetcok Conservative agent saide and, giving him a large sum of money, said: "Spend that, and more if you want it—all that is necessary, but Mr. Disraeli must be returned. 'Mr. Disraeli was returned by a large majority, and, if the truth were known, no doubt Mrs. Wyndam Lewis paid still more highly for the privilege of getting him is. was hers only for her life, and she was not

GEORGE W. WARNER, Business Manager Morning Times, Scranton, Pa., June 8, 1888: "Am troubled with hemorrhages from lungs, and find the Extract to be the only remedy that will absolutely control them." B. S. HEMKINS, Red Wing, Minn., September 24, 1884: "I had considerable trouble with my teeth, causing a great deal of inflammation of the face, and the only thing that effectually cured me was Pond's Extract."

JAMES E. READE, 631 Chestnut street, Philadelphia: "I have used Pond's Extract in a case of long standing internal inflammation, and obtained relief within a few hours, when applications prescribed by several physicians

MRS. MARY F. RENTON, 79 Hewes street, Brooklyn, N. Y.: "I have used Pond's Extract internally for hemorrhages with marked and wonderful effect. I have also used it in case of Spinal Meningitis for one of my family with marked relief."

MRS. W. O. MINE, 19 Clinton Place, New York City, October 20, 1885: "It affords me much pleasure to testify to the speedy relief and permanent cure effected by the use of your Pond's Extract in a case of severe Hemorrhage of the Bowels of long standing. My desire is to recommend it strongly in all cases of internal bleeding."

Took Off His Under Lip. Took Off His Under Lip.

Eight years ago a cancer came on my lower lip. I had it cut out while it was yet small, and it healed up apparently, but soon broke out again, and commenced eating very rapidly. It took off my under lip from one side to the other, and down to my chin. I had it treated by burning, and got so weak that I did not think that I could stand it much longer. After much suffering I discarded all other treatment, and began taking Swift's Specific, and the cancer soon began to heal, and in a short time it was completely heated and I was entirely well. It is now over three years since I got well, and there has been no sign of any return of the disease. I know it was cancer, and I know it was cured alone by S. S. S.

SENSIBLE MARRIED FOLKS AND THE ONLY M'NICHOL,

AND THE ONLY M'NICHE
This sumer outing is a thing.
Which rises like a gorgon's hearty
The subject comes up every spring.
And makes life wearisome as lead.
Where shall they go—our daughters, and makes life wearisome as lead.
To spend as much as others do;
To make a burden of their lives.
And find extravagances new?
Away, away to mountain—lake!
To sea-shore, valiey, hill and piers.
While we toil on—no pleasures take
And live disconsolately here.
Descrete chambers dim and dark,
No light nor life—no sitr nor sounds.
Exifiguished quite the vital spark—
No wives nor little folks around.
You may depend I dreaded this

You may depend I dreaded this
When rose the mercury to the top;
Then wife, she met me with a kiss
And next—I felt that I should drop;
'Tom, dear, we've boarded long enough
I've traveled o'er the created foam;
I've had it soft, you've had it rough,
Bereft of comfort, wife and home.

Bereft of comfort, wife and home.

"Now, listen, Tom dear, if you can,
McNichol is the friend I'll seek;
You've heard of his instalment plan,
How homes are made, dear, by the week;
No toolish flight to Easterriciline
I need to make me strong again;
I think I'll stay with you this time,
And in my little empire reign." Wasn't Tom a happy man to hear this? With re-newed energy he worked and gave his weekly say-ings to this helpment, who made him a bright and cheerful home at small cost, with the help of (Trade Mark.) THE ONLY M'NICHOL, 1022, 1024, 1032, 1034, Market St

BOTH USED REVOLVERS. Lively Shooting Affray on the Leves, but A lively shooting scrape took place on the Levee at about 8:30 a. m. to-day, no person being injured. It seems that two colored men, George Dewey and Wm. Russ, both employes of the steamer Pittsburg, lying at the foot of Washington avenue, became engaged in a quarrel during the progress of which Russ drew a revolver and fired three shots at his opponent. Dewey then drew his weapon and fired twice at Russ, none of the shots taking effect. Both men then took to their heels and made their escape before the arrival of the police.

"BRADSTREET'S" REPORT, A Review of the General Business of This Country for Past Week. By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. NEW YORK, June 22.—Special telegrams to 484 484 48 484 186 254 254 254 254 creased activity in general trade at Boston, Philadelphia, Memphis and Burlington. This is likewise true at Pittsburg, now that railway 59 60 59 60 traffic in the Pennsylvania flood district has been resumed. At Kansas City the improvetraffic in the Pennsylvania flood district has been resumed. At Kansas City the improvement is most pronounced, where reduced lumber freight rates have increased shipments and stimulated building. There has been only a moderate business at New Orieans, St. Louis, Galveston, Omaha, Detroit and San Francisco. Chicago, St. Paul and New York maintain full seasonable averages. Heavy rains over the Western and Central Western States are reported, but no serious damage to crops is reported. Eight out of eighteen leading staples have advanced in price this week; five are steady and even firm, coffee, cotton and hog products alone being noteworthy as showing a decline. In despite of disturbing elements in the Western railroad situation the danger of disruption to the Interstate Association and apparent sensitive conditions of the money market, stock speculation at New York continues to show a decidedly buillish tendency. Activity is slightly decreased and attention drifts from the grangers to the coal stocks and industrial specialties. Bonds are strong in anticipation of a July reinvestment demand. Over $5,000,000 gold was shipped to France and the New York money market stiffened, the rate for call loans rising from 20212 to 3 per cent at the close of the week. Foreign exchange is firm. Sterling is lower relatively than Continental bills. Demand sterling, 4.88% 48.89. Gross and net earnings of ninety-one rail-roads for April and for four months ending April 30 show gains over April, 1888, fin gross of 3 per cent and in net of 114 1184 114 1184

/2	The feeling was intensely bearish, but the fact that Chicago showed strength at the opening and that cables were strong, prevented the free seiling that otherwise the market would undoubtedly have started in with. Afterwards the atmosphere grew somewhat hazy, and fear of unsettled weather once more obtruded itself, so that when Chicago was off to 77½c, July did not get below 72%c here. #### AMONG THE BROKERS. A Gelden Era Boom - Stocks Sold and Prices Obtained. There was a general advance all along the line in mining stocks, and sales were un: usually heavy.

The sharpest rise was that in Golden Era. For some time past this stock has been steadily advancing as the news from the property has improved. This morning the market manifested unusual strength at the opening and continued to advance. The first bid was 38%, but no sales were made until 41% had been offered, when 400 shares changed hands; 42% was then bid, and after 700 shares had been sold the price rose to 45, trading closing with a transfer of 300 shares at this price.

The cause of the rise was the following telegram from the mine: "Ore in fourth level 18 inches thick; assays $95; water coming in very fast; ore in winze pinched to 4 inches; assays $85." steadily advancing as the news from the prop-fast; ore in winze pinched to 4 inches; assays $85.''

Gold Run was exceedingly active and in spite of very heavy sales declined but little At the opening of the call II was bid, but a sale of 200 shares sent the price down to 10½. At that figure sales were active, over 1,600 shares changing hands; 10 was then bid, and 1,700 shares were sold with more offered. At 9½ the transfers were the heaviest of the day, 2,700 shares being bought. This checked the decline, and after 9½ had been bid, with no takers, trading closed with a sale of 200 shares at 10.

Stockholders say that the property is doing very well, and only needs an increase in the capacity of the stamp mill to be placed upon a dividend paying basis. But 20 stamps are now dropping, while it is estimated that at least twice as many are needed. The mine is more than paying expenses, but as some debts will fall due in November the surplus is being set aside to meet these liabilities.

IXL continued the steady advance which has characterized this stock during the week. The opening bids at 1934 called out no stock but at 20 the transfers amounted to over $,000 shares, and this price was bid for more. None was obtained and the market closed with sales aggregating 500 shares at 214.

was obtained and the market closed with sales aggregating 500 shares at 214.

There has been a good deal of quiet trading in Carbonate, and to day 3,500 shares sold at 114;

The semi-weekly shipment of the Granite Mountain amounts to 25 bars, containing 35,616 ounces of silver and 72 ounces of gold.

Ivanhoe was 65 bid, 674; asked; 100 Queen of the West sold at 214; Mary Poster was 145 asked, 45 bid; 58 asked; West Granite was 725 bid, 50 asked; West Granite was 725 bid, offered at 75; Black Spar was 249 asked; 2 bid; 100 Silver Age sold at 55,15; Small Hopes was 41.15 bid, 51,234 asked; Anderson was aftered at 164; 110 M. I. sold at 474; closi 13 was bid for Carlboo, Granite Mountain was 548.

Major Budd brought 25, and 100 Montrose Piacer was 65 bid, 85 as oo sold at 30; Rens was 44; ask; was bid for Corpper, 3; 12.

14 asked, 13½ bid; 35 was bid for Pat Murphy, 35% asked; Mountain Key was offered at $1.40, bid $1.25; Neath was 20 bid, 25 asked; 32½ was asked for Mountain Lion, 26¼ bid; 9½ was asked for Concepcion, 9 bid; Dinero was 5 bid, 6 asked.

There was no change in the money market, discounts being made at 6.68 per cent; New York exchange, 25 to 50 cents premium; clear-ances, $3,703,694; balances, $718,415.

Tork exchange, 25 to 50 cents premium; clearances, $3,703,694; balances, $718,415.

Murphy Mountain, which has been between success and failure in showing profitable mines for several years, seems now in fair way to give $8. Louis some large returns. The lessees of the Pioneer, of the Lady property, as already published, are taking out some very rich ore, and car-load shipments have been made of it which show it to have good value. The Pat, also, has been taking out and shipping some good ore, and it is supposed to have reached a reasonably solid basis? The Mary, which has shipped large quantities of ore and paid several $5 dividends, and which then got into ore of entirely too low grade, has also lately been shipping ore netting a large profit. The whole situation has thus been very encouraging recently, but it was made more so by the report received from the Mary yesterday. This was to the effect that on the seventh level north a vein of 3 feet had been opened up a distance of 300 feet, face assays showing it to run $40 to $70 per ton. In the tenth level south a 7-foot vein had been opened up, but only four blasts had been made, and 10 feet cut, and no assays had been made. The ore, however, had a fine appearance, and would run high. In the north end, where an upraise is being cut to connect with the Floneer winze, where the Lady is taking out its rich ore, the vein is growing wider and richer, and the prospects appear to be good for a large body.

Speaking of the sffairs of the Major Budd, Mr. Benj. Fine said to-day: "The affairs of the Major Budd are settled and the papers signed, sealed and delivered. Any dispute between Mr. Mulially and Schwab & Zimmerman are between them and don't concern the company. You can state this emphatically for me."

HORTON POPE APPOINTED.

Secretary Noble Tenders Him the Position of Private Secretary.

The Secretary of the Interior has chosen a St. Louisan to fill the important position of Private Secretary. A few days ago Mr. Horton Private Secretary. A few days ago Mr. Horton Pope received a letter from Gen. Noble, tendering him that office. He at once wrote a letter of acceptance, and will soon leave for Washington to enter upon his duties.

Mr. Pope is about 24 years of age and has long been a resident of St. Lous. He is the eldest son of Maj. Gen. John Popegof the United States Army. Mr. Pope graduated at the Smith Academy and from there went to Harvard, entering the class of 1886. He completed his four years course, and then returned to St. Louis, where he matriculated at the law school. He was tendered a deak in the office of Noble & Orriek, which he occupied during his course of study, graduating with honors in 1888 Since that time he has been professionally associated with John C. AUBURN, N. Y., June 22.—A well-dressed man entered the Osborne House yesterday morning and registered as "A. Broadrib" of the Albany Econing Journal. He was given a room and was about the streets during the day, but spent considerable time in his room, ually remarking that he was writing up articles for the Journal. Last evening a gentieman saw him in the office and recognized him as an escaped lunatic. He telephoned to the City Hall Station. About 1 o'clock Officers Grady, Ryan and Smith were detailed to arrest him and lock him up. They proceeded to the Osborne House and took "Broadrib" into custody. When taken to the City Hall he gave his name as Hiram H. Wilson, and admitted that he had escaped from Willard Asylum at Ovid Tuesday morning and had walked to the city, begging food on the way. He produced a parole card used at Willard Asylum by the men who are not dangerous and are allowed the privileges of the ground. Wilson has been in the Insane Asylum at Middletown, Ithaca, Auburn and Willard's. He was at one time night editor of the Glens Falls. Times, and later was on the staff of the Albany Erening Journal. The Journal people considered him brilliant, but erratic. He was "ed for assaulting a man at Glens Falls, proven that he was insane and he was the asylum for insane criminals in y. New York, June 22.-The damage done on board the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius by the premature discharge of one of her pneumatic guns during their trial some months ago has been repaired and her builders have given notice to the Navy Department that they expect to be ready for an official trial of her guns, for rapidity of fire, one day next week. The vessel has already had her trials for speed and for accuracy of her guns, and it is expected that if the test for rapidity of fre is up to the contract requirements she will be accepted. Possibly, however, she will be required to make another speed trial as her former trial was made under a modification of the original contract and many naval officers have expressed grave doubts as to her ability to come up to the letter of the contract. Her performance was entirely satisfactory to Secretary Whitney and Mr. Tracy may take the same view. If she is accepted she will probably be placed in commission and sent to the torpedo station at Newport to be used in the instruction of officers and men in handling vessels of her construction. By the last naval appropriation bill the Secretary of the Navy is authorized to contract with the Pneumatic Dynamite Gun Co., for another vessel of the Vesuvius type as soon as he is satisfied with the efficiency of the Vesu-The vessel has already had her trials for speed with the Phenmatic Dynamite Gin Co., for another vessel of the Vesuvius type as soon as he is satisfied with the efficiency of the Vesu-vius. NOT AFRAID OF A MAD DOG. Men Who Are Willing to Chance Hydropho-

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. SEDALIA, Mo., June 22.-The mad dog and mad stone subject has about exhausted itself here and created a laugh at the expense of Dr. Ed N. Small, Chief Surgeon of the Missourl, Kansas & Texas hospital system. A few days ago he laughingly offered a reward of $500 to any one owning a so-called mad stone who would be bitten by one of his dogs, then afflicted with the rables, little thinking that it would be accepted. It was, however, a tall specimen of humanity appearing from Arkansas ready to receive the bite of the dog and the $500. The doctor had hard work to get rid of the fellow, and did not until the matter had gotten into the newspapers. Then the fun began. Letters from all over the country began pouring in by people who had mad stones in which they could believe, and whose fingers were aching to clutch that bank note. The dog, the fifth in his valuable kennel to go, was killed and the doctor flattered himself that he had heard the last of it. Today, however, he received the following challenges, the Kansas City gentleman being the owner of a celebrated mad stone:

Dr. Ed N. Small, Chief Surgeon Missouri Pacific Railway at Sedalia: Railway at Scalaia:

Dear Sir—I have written to you accepting on behalf of Mr. A. Sherman of this city your challenge of the 15th inst. In which you offered $500 to anyone who would submit himself to the bite of your hydrophobia afflicted dog, in order to test the efficacy of madstones, but have received no reply. If you will forward to my address by express, charges paid, your dog I will guarantee to effect his cure by the application of madstones or forfeit $50. Bring on the dog. Yours, etc.

This morning over one hundred boys who have been in attendance at St. Mary's College Kan., came into the Union Depot in two specially chartered cars and made the passenger sheds ring with their whoops for the beginning of the vacation. Many of the parents and guardians of the boys were at the Union Depot to receive them. The cars bore long streamers on which was the college's name, and were in charge of Scholastics Leary and Dierkes of the college. At this point the pupils separated, going to their homes in different parts are died to the country to spend their vacation. the probable starters as follows: Spokane, Proctor Knott, Don Jose, Sorrento, Once Long Dance, Come-towill be the greatest 3year and will be worth of $18,000 to the win ner. The five firstnamed are the only colts who are consid-chance of winning. Spokane is the favorite with the betters and it is no more than natural that he should be. Twice he has lowered the colors of Proctor Knott, Kentucky's pride, and as he is said to be in excelient trim there is no reason why he should not sell well in the pools. Spokane is certainly a wonderful colt, and the horse that beats him will have to stretch himself He will be ridden by Tom Kiley, who twice piloted him to victory over the Kentucky.

Proctor Knott, Spokane's old rival, is said to be out of snape, but despite this assertion he is being backed heavily to win, and in some books the odds against him are as short as they are on the Montana wonder. Sam Bryant, Knott's owner, asserts the big gelding has not entirely recovered from his late attack of sickness and that he is in no condition for a race. The very fact that he states this makes some men back the son of Luke Blackburn with more confidence, believing that his more confidence, believing that his owner thinks he can win, but in endeavoring to frighten off the public from betting on him so he can secure better odds against the colt. Fitzpatrick will have the mount on the big gelding and for the first time this season the horse will have a jockey who can ride him. Fitzpatrick can hold bim in, which is more than the lightweight jockey who was formerly up on him could do. Still horses, even when in, sometimes fight so hard for their head that they really tire them held in, sometimes fight so hard for their head that they really tire themselves as much as if given their way and permitted to run until they have pumped themselves out. If Knott is in good condition, with Fizzpatrick, who is a dare-devil rider, up, he should certainly be in the race. The remarkable form which he showed as a 2 year-old and his fine run at Nashville early this spring, when his neck had to be almost doubled to enable his stable companion, Come-to-Taw, to win, make the betting public cling affectionately to the Kentucky colt. Come-to-Taw may also start in the race to-day, but he will have no chance against the cracks entered against him, and his only service could be to assist Knott by making the pace and pumping out some of the other horses. There are too many cracks in, however, for even this to be worked very successfully. It was stated in Chicago to-day that Bryant had all his money up on Knott.

A borse that is well thought of is Don Jose, Mr. Theo, Winter's crack, who won so easily at the St. Louis meeting. He has never been put to a proper test, however, as he had nothing here to beat except third-rate horses, but he won from them under a strong pull. Before coming here he ran second to The Czar, his lately declared stable companion, in California, and it is asserted by some that he was held in to enable The Czar to win. The general opinion, however, is that the latter was really a better colt than Don Jose, and he was probably the best in the country. Certain it is that Don Jose is a grand colt and belongs in the same class with Spokane and Proctor Knott. He is a son of Joe Hooker, and a powerful Lorse, so that he ought to be thoroughly at home on a heavy track, and the Chicago track is reported to be in that condition to-day. Considerable of St. Louis money has been wagered on the handsome California chestnut, and if he does not win the will he very close up at the finish. Louis money has been wagered on the hand some California chestnut, and if he does not win he will be very close up at the finish. Winchell, who rode him here, will be in the saddle to-day, while Tom Kiley, who has piloted Spokane to victory twice before over Proctor Knott, will again have the mount on the Montana colt.

Proctor Knott, will again have the mount on the Montana colt.

California is represented by another crack who is entitled to rank with anything entered in the race. This is Mr. McCarthy's Sorrento. After being given a miserable start at San Francisco he ran the Czar to a head in the California Derby, when the latter lowered the Derby record to 2:36 early this season. Mr. McCarthy is said to have backed the colt to win $50,000 on this race. He had negotiated with Jimmy McLaughlin to ride him, but failed to secure the latter's service, and now finds himself without a jockey. It is said that Duffy may be put up. On a dry track and with a good jockey up. Forrento ought to stand as good if not a better chance than any horse in the race, as he carries three pounds less than most of his competitors and has wonderful speed. He is very small, however, and can hardly be expected to do himself justice on a heavy track, and particularly without the aid of an experienced and able jockey.

Once Again is a horse who is selling very without the aid of an experienced and able jockey.

Once Again is a horse who is selling very high in the pools. He was second choice at Chicago last night. Isaac Murphy is to ride him, and as Murphy probably has no equal in this country in a race of a mile and a half, this fact makes the colt much better thought of by betters. Then Once Again is reported to be in wondering condition and to be performing remarkably well in practice. That he is a fine colt there can be no doubt, but he can hardly be classed with Spokane, Proctor Knott, Don Jose and Sorrento, and it is difficult to realize why he should sell no higher even when the fact that Murphy is up and the colt's own splendid condition are considered.

Long Dance has been heavily backed by his Murphy is up and the colt's own splendid condition are considered.

Long Dance has been heavily backed by his owner to win and Barnes will ride him, but he is clearly out-classed and the same is true of all the other entries. The track condition of horses and everything considered, the race should be between Spokane and Don Jose. It will not be run until late this afternoon.

Acting here in the race has been rather heavy. At Roche's the odds were as follows: 5 to 2 against Proctor Knott or Spokane; 4 to 1 against Sorrento; 25 to 1 against Long Dance on Retrieve. At Furber's the odds ruled: 2 to 1 Spokane, 13 to 5 Proctor Knott, 4 to 1, Don Jose, 6 to 1 Once Again and Sorrento, 15 to 1 Le Premier, 30 to 1 Long Dance and 40 to 1 Retrieve. A large delegation of St. Louisians left for Chicago last night to witness the race.

The Giants' New Grounds.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 22.—At last the New York Base Ball Club has now a home within the corporate limits of New York City. For some time the club has been negotiating for the property lying between One Hundred and Fiity-fifth and One Hundred and Fifty-seventh streets, immediately west of the Eighth avenue elevated railroad. The lease has finally been secured by the club and the grounds will be put into shape as rapidly as possible.

NEW YORK. June 22 .- Mr. Steinitz has been nformed that the prize of 300 francs which was offered by Prince Dadian of Mingrelia for the most brilliant game of the contest played between Messrs. Steinitz and Tschigorin, at Havana, in January and February last, has been awarded by the Prince to the eighth game of the contest, which was won by Steinitz.

Yale Downs the University of Pennsylvania. The eight-oared four-mile straight-away Pennsylvania which was rowed on the Thames River near New London, Conn., last evening was won by Yale by a boat length and a half in 23.50, the time of the Pennsylvania erew being 23.56. A stiff breeze was blowing against the crews and the water was very rough. Brooks of Harvard was the referee, and the course was from Gales Ferry to Withrop Point. Yale pulled a steady, swinging stroke while the Pennsylvanias were jerky and erratic in their work. First one and then the other crew would lead, and it appeared to be a close race, but the Yale boys were not exerting themselves, as they had received orders from Bob Cook, their coacher, to win by as close a margin as possible, so that the Harvard boys, who were watching their work closely for points, could not derive much advantage from what they saw. Yale could undoubtedly have run away from the Pennsylvania crew had they so desired.

Where Spllivan and Kilrain Will Fight NEW ORLEANS, June 22 .- It is generally be ived in sporting circles here that the Kilrain-Sullivan prize-fight will come off at Abita Springs in St. Tammany Parish, across Lake Springs in St. Tammany Parish, across Lake Pontchartrain from New Orleans. The officials of the Queen & Crescent and the East Louisiana railroads have been working hard to secure this selection and have offered such inducements and facilities for transportation of a large crowd that it is said Klirain's managers have conditionally accepted them subject to a further investigation by Stevenson when he arrives here.

Abita is thirty-three miles from New Orleans, and is reached by the Queen & Grescent and East Louisiana Railroads. The owners of the latter line will erect an amphitheater at the battle ground to seat 2,000 persons in case the town is selected for the fight. It can be reached in an hour from New Orleans, and is a healthy pine tree country, where there is

The Wheat and Fruit Crops of the Neosho

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH OSAGE MISSION, Kan., June 22.-Kansas this summer has been more than blessed with its share of rain. Our season has been cool and damp, making it very favorable to the wheat crop, an immense acreage of which is now being harvested. The great Neosho Valley was being harvested. The great Neosho Valley was a week ago almost one immense wheat field, the first bottom being about two miles wide and about two hundred and fifty miles long; the estimate of wheat has been that it would average at least thirty-five bushels per acro. Heavy rains fell all over this valley, beginning on the 15th, and the river raised continually until Wednesday night, overflowing all the first bottom lands and almost totally destroying the crops, and it is still raining. Outside the river bottom the wheat is being harvested and will make a good yield.

THE RIGHTS OF A DIVORCED WIFE OR WIDOW DEFINED.

udge Klein Informs a Divorced Woma of Her Claim on Her Husband's Prop-erty—The War Between Neighbors, Franz Wieners and Conrad Deubel, Ended—Judgment Against James Gree for $21,200,

The rights of a divorced wife to her hus band's property were explained in a decision rendered by Judge Lubke this morning. Mrs. Mary E. Schroeder secured a decree of divorce from William H. F. Schroeder who owned $27,000 worth of real estate While the suit was pending Mr. Schroede transferred all his property to Mary L. Bab bitt, to whom he owed $12,000 borrowed long efore Mrs. Schroeder thought of obtaining divorce and gave Mrs. Babbitt a deed of trust on all the property. When Mrs. Schroede secured a divorce and was granted aliproperty was tied up in this deed of trust and she thereupon brought suit against her former husband and his creditors. Judge Klein says: "If it should be found as a fact that a husband defendant in a divorce suit had conveyed his property in fraud of his wife's rights of allmony to one chargeable with knowledge of such fraudulent interest it is clear that the fraud would be uncovered in equity and the rights of the wife protected. such is not the case. The filing the suit did not operate as lien on any part of her of the suit did not operate as a lien on any part of her husband's real or personal property. She is not a creditor. She has no claim in the nature of a debt in the matter of alimony. Her rights to future support and provision out of her husband's estate must, in the nature of things, be subordinate to the rights of creditors, except in so far as the law protects the family against the claims of creditors, except in so far as the law protects the family against the claims of creditors. A moment's consideration will make this perfectly clear. A woman about to be divorced is certainly not to be more favored in the law than a widow. The widow takes her rights, aside from a few absolute provisions, such as a homestead, ner household furniture and a year's provisions, subject to the rights of her husband's creditors. The law is always just before it is generous, and it would be an intolerable injustice to undertake to make provisions for a divorced wife or a widow for the balance of her life at the expense of and to the detriment of the husband's honest creditors. It is elementary law that a creditor has the right to obtain security for his debt. No new consideration is in such a case necessary. A deed of frust is not an absolute conveyance of the property covered thereby. A disproportion between the value of the security and the debt is immaterial, because only the amount of the the debt can be enforced against the property. The plaintiff seeks here, not only to secure her lawful rights. In the pursuit of the first she must and has prevailed, in the attempt to do the other she must suffer defeat. If

of the first she must and has prevailed; in the attempt to do the other she must suffer defeat."

END OF A WAR BETWEEN NEIGHBORS.

Judge Klein also rendered a decision in the case of Franz Wieners against Conrad Deubel et al. It is an ugly war among neighbors. Wieners owns a lot on Crittenden street near Missouri avenue, and Deubel owns the lot adjoining. Ten years ago Deubel built a dwelling on his lot and five years after it was built Wieners discovered that Deubel had usurped three and three-fourths inches of his property and having no particular love for Deubel, he brought suit against him. He secured a writ and the Sheriff went out to serve it but returned without the property. He reported to the Court that to obtain possession of the three inches of ground he would have to tear down a wall, and in tearing down the wall he would tear down the whole house. Mr. Wiener said it made no difference what the result would be, he wanted his ground, and then sued the Sheriff for contempt. Mr. Deubel filed an answer, saying he did not know when he was building that he was encroaching on Wiener's territory, but now that he had he was writh only $11 a foot or $15 a foot at the highest vaination and he stood ready to pay that price for the three or more inches. Wieners did not want the money, he wanted to see the house down, and asked the Court to give him a writ of assistance in obtaining possession of the ground. The Court reviewed the plea and the proposition and then dismissed the demurrer to Deubel's answer and also Wiener's petition. Wiener is out a lawyer's fees, costs of court and the ground he sued for, all of which Wiener is out a lawyer's fees, costs of court and the ground he sued for, all of which could have been prevented by a mutual un-derstanding. derstanding: JUDGMENT FOR $21,000 AGAINST JAMES GREEN.

The suit of Eugene C. Tittman, Public Administrator, against James Green, bondsman for Joseph W. Branch, trustee for Mrs. Florence E. Crooks Garrison, was decided by Judge Klein to-day. Joseph N. Branch was a member of the iron firm of Branch, Crooks & Co., and when Mr. Crooks died he made Mr. Branch, trustee of his estate. James Green became his security. Florence E. Crooks was Mr. Crooks' daughter and Mr. Branch's niece. At the time of her father's death there was $20,767.11 due her in her father's estate. She became of age in November, 1880, and in December, 1883, Mr. Branch made a final fettlemet, and there was then found a balance of $20,772.36 due Miss Crooks. Miss Crooks married William E. Garrison, and in July she died. There was at that time still a balance of $20,239 in Mr. Branch's hands. From the evidence it seems Mr. Branch used his ward's money, charging himself 7 per cent per annum. At one time he was worth $160.000 or more The suit of Eugene C. last night, Mayor E. A. Noonan heard some thing concerning the pitiful condition in which, the chorus girls of the "Faust company were left by the man ager who brought them here and abandoned them. The information aroused abandoned them. The information aroused the Mayor's sympathies, and he immediately determined to do something for their benefit. The girls are at the Merchants' Hotel without means. They cannot pay the hotel bill which is every day growing larger and having no wardrobes—their trunks being held by the hotel people as security for their board—they cannot get engagements. They have been compelled to subsist on such contributions as have been made by the few generous people who have known of their condition. The heartless manager who deserted them not only paid them nothing for their services but made no provision whatever for them. The "benefit" given them at Entertainment Hall was of no benefit, as it netted very few dollars. When the Mayor heard their story he said that something should be done for the girls and at once. He would give $25 to assist them and would do what he could to interest other people.

Hancock street, Brooklyn, was relieved of its guard yesterday, and all the neighborhood breathed a sigh of relief. The quarantine was removed early yesterday morning. "They have had the place thoroughly disinfected,"

Dr. Smith sent the following telegram to the Quarantine Commissioners yesterday afternoon:

'Dr. Duncan is improving, and the prospect is fair for his recovery. The history of his case, his symptoms since his admission to the hospital and his present condition conclusively prove his case to be remittent fever.''

Dr. Duncan is still at Swinburne Island, and even if he recoveres he will not be able to be removed for several weeks yet. A lengthy card was issued yesterday to the public, signed by thirty-three Brooklyn physicians, protesting against the detention of Dr. Bogart. The statement begins by saying that the arrest of Dr. Bogart was of such interest to the community at large that they deem a statement of the facts necessary. They mention the difficulty of diagnosing yellow fever, "especially during the earlier days of an attack."
The doctors then say: "The imprisonment of a physician without process of law at the arbitrary discretion of the Commissioner of health is without precedent in the history of Brooklyn. Whether in so doing the Commissioner exceeded the legal powers wested in him he may possibly be called upon to show before the proper judicial tribunal; but in any case the use of so extraordinary a power should be exercised only in the presence of undoubted great public peril."

They conclude by saying that they do not think there was any public peril and that if the power of arbitrary is left to the Commissioner of Health no physician can know when this power may be exercised. There have been no further cases of illness of any of the passengers on the Colon reported to the authorities in this city and none are looked for.

Condition of Unemployed Miners in the Braidwood Coal Fields,

CHICAGO, Ill., June 22 .- A morning paper ion into the condition of the mining people Streater, Ill. It says: "The condition of Braidwood is one to call forth the commise tion and the immediate practical help of the people of the United States. The normal people of the United States. The nermal population of the town is about 55000, all directly dependent upon the coal mining industry for their daily bread. At this time not one ounce of coal is being mined and the inhabitants are at the point of starvation. Men, women and children allke share in the blight which has overeast this section. The causes of the stagnation are two—the continued depression in the coal industry here and the culminating strike, or lockout, which has placed 1,500 bread-winners beyond the possibility of utilizing their labor."

ners beyond the possibility of utilizing their labor."

The reporter found that most of the single men and aome of the married men had left the town in search of work. He discovered many families with six, eight or ten children, without a morsel of food in the house. Some who have gardens are living on potatoes and lettuce. Many have not tasted meat this year. Food supplies in small amounts have been sent them, but they are totally inadequate to the necessities of the case. The article says: "There is a pressing and immediate necessity for relief for these poor people. Not less than 3,000 women and children are in absolute want of food, and relief cannot be too quickly sent them,"

At Streator about 2,500 miners have been idle for seven weeks, resisting a proposed reduction of 10 cents per ton in the price of mining. To date about eight hundred applications for relief have been received. The relief committee states that many families are living on bread and water, and that there are shout

The adjourned session of the May Grandjury concluded its work to-day, and returned a large number of indictments shortly before noon. In its report the jury announced that it had been in session for six consecutive days, during which time a total of fifty-two cases had been examined. Of these true bills had been returned in forty cases; four had been ignored and eight had been continued on account of the absence of indictment against Singleton Cave and Wm. pers, it is generally understood at the Four Courts that such an indictment had been rendered and was withheld only on account of the fact that the defendants had not given bond for appearance in the Criminal Court and were not under arrest on the charge for which they were indicted. That such a step was taken is, however, almost assured. The report "notes with satisfaction that the recommendations of previous Grand-juries concerning the welfare of our city institutions and revived in the partial report rendered on May 20, have awakened a real interest in the matter to the extent that the clizens and city officials are at last aroused to the necessities of the occasion." For about thirteen years I have been troubled with eczema or some other cutaneous disease which all other remedies failed to cure. Hearing of the CUTI-CURA REMEDIES I resolved to give them a trial and purchased one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one purobased one bottle or CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP. I followed the directions carefully, and is affords me much pleasure to say that before using two boxes of the CUTICURA, four cakes of the CUTICURA SOAP and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT I was entirely carred. one bottle of CUTICHER RESOLVENT I was entirely cured.

In addition to my owncase my baby boy, then about 5 months old, was suffering with what I supposed to be the same disease as mine to such an extent that his head was coated over with a solid scab, from which there was a constant flow of pus which was dekening to look upon, besides two large tumor-like kernels on the back of his head. Thanks to you and your wonderful CUTICHER REMEDIES, his scalp is perfectly well, and the kernels have been scattered to that there is only one little place by his left ear, and that is healing nicely. Instead of a coating of scabs he has a fine coat of hair, much better than that which was destroyed by the disease. I would that the whole world of sufferers from skin and blood his cases knew the value of your CUTICULA REMEDIES as I do.
